Q:

The Family Circle Cup has traditionally been a great launching pad for the champion going into the Slams. Do you feel good about your chances for the slams in 2011?

Caroline Wozniacki:

I'm feeling like I've been playing well this week and in general this year. I feel confident and I know I can win a Slam, but it's all about getting everything together. The draw has to fit, I have to play well for two weeks, things like that have to all work together.

Q:

How does this rank with your best wins?

Caroline Wozniacki:

Every title means something special to me. This one is very special to me as I was in the final here two years ago, and the semifinals last year when I rolled my ankle, which was very unfortunate. So I'm really happy with this win, and this has always been a great tournament for me.

Q:

Martina Hingis was the last No. 1 ranked winner at the Family Circle Cup. What do you admire most about Hingis?

Caroline Wozniacki:

Martina Hingis always knew what to do on-court – she wasn't a big power hitter, but she had an answer all over the court, and that's what I've admired about her.
